Learn About Global Money Week

What is Global Money Week (GMW)?

Global Money Week (GMW) is a worldwide celebration with local and regional events and activities aimed at inspiring children and youth to learn about money, saving, creating livelihoods, gaining employment, and becoming an entrepreneur.

What is the goal of GMW?

While the celebrations of GMW are concentrated in one week every year, the ideas, events, and lessons learned are intended to have a long-lasting impact. The goal is to promote the importance of financial literacy and the inclusion and empowerment of youth, in an effort to reshape finance and tackle the poverty trap that results from inadequate resources, knowledge, and education.

When is GMW taking place?

Global Money Week is held annually during the 2nd week of March. GMW 2016 celebrations will take place worldwide from March 14-20.

Who organizes GMW?

It is coordinated, supported and facilitated by the Child & Youth Finance International (CYFI) Team, but the events themselves are organized by schools, universities, financial institutions, government ministries, central banks, members of the civil society and communities of active youth worldwide.

Why celebrate GMW?

Your participation brings the world one step closer to ensuring financial inclusion for every child with access to financial services, the ability to develop money-managing skills, and the opportunity to have a reliable source of income.

Global Money Week 2016 Theme

GMW 2016's theme is 'Take Part. Save Smart!'

This year, Global Money Week continues the focus on the importance of saving – taking part in smart savings behavior helps children and youth to secure their futures.

Why save smart? Because: it is important for children and youth to build clever cost-careful habits from an early age in order to avoid financial exclusion and develop key money-managing skills for later in life.

Taking part in smart saving today offers a safer tomorrow; but how can we achieve this? Empower children and youth!

Global Money Week is an opportunity for everyone to get involved:

- Businesses and corporate companies - engage with future customers and encourage economic inclusion
- Policy makers and financial institutions - enable children and youth to access financial services
- Civil society and schools - organize money awareness events in your communities
- Parents and families - talk about money management with your kids
- Children and youth - have fun learning!

Take Part and help the next generation to Save Smart!

SECTION 2

Suggestions for Your Activities

Take Part! Begin a Local Activity. Join the Global Activities! Or, do both!

Financial institutions are integral to the GMW celebrations and broader CYF Movement – our goal is to ensure every young person has access to the formal financial system. As a representative from financial institutions, there is a lot you can do to engage with your future customers during GMW, and to promote the economic inclusion of children and youth in your community or country.

There are no limits to what you can do. You can organize a one day activity, or various events throughout Global Money Week 2016.

Banks, Banking Associations and Microfinance Institutions

👍 Plan an Open Day for students at bank branches

Student groups can visit your bank branches or headquarters, to get to know more about how banks work, which different departments and job positions are available, and what they do.

👍 Visits to schools and universities

Organize visits to schools and universities to hold lectures on money history, money management and/or introduce their roles and responsibilities within the financial system. This way youth can learn more about how these institutions work and ask the questions they are curious about.

👍 Savings campaign

Hold a savings campaign where children and youth can visit local branches to open their first savings accounts in an easy, fast and secure manner.

👍 Job shadow activity

Organize a job shadow activity, and provide students with a mentorship and work experience opportunity - this would showcase the Bank offices, and help to motivate students to pursue financial careers through first-hand experience.

👍 Launch various competitions

Launch various competitions to activate youth in your country and get them involved in your topics.

- Organize drawing competitions around creative themes like 'My dream money', 'My dream bank', 'My money tree with dreams', to capture the artistic talent of students - then display the posters, banners and pictures at the special GMW2016 exhibition at the local museum or at one of the bank or central bank buildings.

- Engage with budding writers through essay competitions on topics like 'Why is it important to save?', 'What are you saving for?', 'Take Part. Save Smart', 'If I were an entrepreneur, which business would I own?', 'My dream job in the future', 'My business idea', 'Where does money come from?' The winning articles can be published throughout the GMW celebrations on your website, local newspapers or youth magazines.

EXAMPLE CASE STUDY

MasterCard Worldwide

To celebrate Global Money Week in 2015, MasterCard announced their participation in a series of activities to raise awareness for child and youth financial inclusion. On March 16th, Director of MasterCard Global Philanthropy – accompanied CYFI at the Ye! EU Launch & Pitching Event in Brussels at the European Economic and Social Committee.

The activity was followed by a web conference organized by Smart Consumer, MasterCard's financial education program and CYFI. The online conference was joined by The Solidarity and Social Investment Fund (FOSIS), a service of the Chilean Government; and Ramón, an economist and young entrepreneur from Colombia. The objective of this initiative was to discuss how to manage your money responsibly and the different challenges and opportunities to become a young entrepreneur in Latin America.

👍 Hold a financial education 'tour'

Send cars or buses to visit places with lots of children and youth, like parks and shopping malls. The cars or buses can have learning facilities to teach youngsters about money and savings, such as computers with financial games, books, and brochures.

👍 Support young entrepreneurs

Welcome young entrepreneurs to pitch their business ideas to you or present their businesses!

Tip! Get involved in CYFI's Schoolbank initiative to deliver financial services to children and youth!

The program uses innovative distribution channels and technology with the goal of financially empowering children and youth in a cost efficient and sustainable way.

SchoolBank creates the savers of the future by:

- Teaching children and youth why and how to save and how to generate income
- Enabling children and youth to put their knowledge into practice in the safe environment of their school
- Where possible, offering innovative banking technology to children and youth

Visit www.childfinanceinternational.org/programs/schoolbank for more information about Schoolbank

Stock Exchanges

Last year 38 stock exchanges around the world participated in Global Money Week 2015. We welcome you to take part in the 'Ring Around the World' initiative, by inviting children and youth to ring the opening stock exchange bell at your stock exchange, to celebrate this week of financial education, inclusion and livelihood awareness.

We would like to encourage stock exchanges with its members, and its employees to get directly involved and organize events in your local communities during the Week. This can take numerous forms, for example:

Tip! 'Ring the bell' ceremony to open/ close the day

Children and youth visit their national stock exchange to learn about why they exist and how they operate. They would have the opportunity to ring the opening or closing bell, which signals the beginning or end of the day's trade, in honor of Global Money Week.

Tip! Visits to the stock exchange

Invite schools, universities and youth groups to visit your stock exchange so that they can learn about money, careers, business and entrepreneurship.

London Stock Exchange (LSE)

On 12 March, the London Stock Exchange (LSE), the international exchange which trades in 21 countries, opened the day of trading in the name of financial inclusion. The LSE has supported Global Money Week since its first edition with similar events. This year children, youth and representatives of CYFI, Tottenham Hotspur Foundation, Money Advice Service and People's Postcode Lottery rang the bell to open the market.

Insurance Company

Tip! Plan an Open Day for students at your company

Student groups can visit your company to get to know more about how insurance companies work, and familiarize them with the concept of insurance.

Tip! Visits to schools and universities

Organize visits to schools and universities to hold lectures on money history, money management and/or introduce their roles and responsibilities within the financial system. This way youth can learn more about how these institutions work and ask the questions they are curious about.

Tip! 'Insurance 101' workshop

Hold an 'Insurance 101' workshop at a local community center, school, or library to provide youth with basic definitions and offer an interactive 'insurance match' session where they can link real-life scenarios to different policies, so they can understand the role that insurance plays in savings and security.

Tip! Launch various competitions

Launch various competitions to activate youth in your country and get them involved in your topics.

- Organize drawing competitions around creative themes like 'My dream money', 'My dream bank', 'My money tree with dreams', to capture the artistic talent of students - then display the posters, banners and pictures at the special GMW2016 exhibition at the local museum or at one of the bank or central bank buildings.

- Engage with budding writers through essay competitions on topics like 'Why is it important to save?', 'What are you saving for?', 'Take Part. Save Smart', 'If I were an entrepreneur, which business would I own?', 'My dream job in the future', 'My business idea', 'Where does money come from?' The winning articles can be published throughout the GMW celebrations on your website, local newspapers or youth magazines.

Tip! Job shadow activity

Organize a job shadow activity, and provide students with a mentorship and work experience opportunity - this would showcase the Bank offices, and help to motivate students to pursue financial careers through first-hand experience.

SECTION 4

Plan a great Global Money Week!

If you would like to plan an event during Global Money Week, this section provides a guide to help plan your activities!

Step 1 Create a Planning Team

Establish a team of dedicated colleagues and volunteers who will help the event run smoothly. If your company has a marketing or communications department, they could help to plan and promote your GMW events.

Step 2 Choose an Event!

Schedule brainstorm session to discuss the type of activities and events you could do during GMW2016. Feel free to get inspired by the activities mentioned earlier in this Toolkit, or come up with new ideas. Most of all – have fun with it!

This is also a great opportunity to involve children and youth into the planning to get their ideas on what they would like to do during the Week. Raise awareness amongst colleagues, partners, friends and family, in advance of the celebrations.

Step 3 Plan the Event!

Consider the logistics of the event, including transportation, venue, equipment, and budget. Discuss ways to save money and involve potential partners. Make a checklist to ensure all factors have been considered to make the event a success!

When choosing the date of your event, look for possibilities to coordinate with local organizations, institutions, and other individuals and groups. Send out Save the Date's!

Step 4 Promote the Event

When publicizing your Global Money Week 2016 events, it is vital to promote it to your target audience effectively! From a large campaign to achieve wide-reaching exposure, to narrower outreach methods to appeal to a specific group, it is important to keep your target audience in mind.

Why not have a look at some of the promotional banners and posters on GMW website, as well as resources for contacting local press and financial institutions. You can find these here: www.globalmoneyweek.org 'Resources' section. Alternatively, you could ask colleagues or volunteers to create promotional posters as a pre-GMW event.

👉 Tips for planning your GMW event!

- Save the Date: March 14-20, 2016. Don't forget to schedule GMW to your annual event calendar!
- Contact your affiliated institutions, businesses, sponsors, and schools to inform them about the Week, and get them involved in GMW celebrations.
- Take fun photos and videos with GMW logos and share them with CYFI Team. GMW logos are downloadable here: www.globalmoneyweek.org 'Resources' section
- Get inspired by earlier GMW celebrations by reading GMW Report 2015, GMW Report 2014 and GMW Report 2013. You can find these reports here: www.globalmoneyweek.org under 'Resources' section

Step 5 Hosting the Event

Ensuring that the tasks of logistics, outreach, volunteer coordination and documentation are successfully accomplished guarantees a fun, educational, and ultimately successful event.

Make sure to take photos and videos! Share them online! Most importantly, have fun!

Step 6 Sharing Your Experience

Do not forget to collect and share media with CYFI and others. Remember, the Global Money Week photo, video or message with the most likes and shares on Facebook or re-tweets on Twitter may be featured on the CYFI website!

Having youth, colleagues, and associates reflect on their experiences is a good way to consolidate their learning. Encourage them to think about the financial processes they observe and experience themselves.

“Today we are taking our first steps as entrepreneurs. We will have a chance to test our business plans which we have so carefully crafted against the real market place. At the end of the day, some of us will be disappointed because of lower sales than anticipated, and some of us will be exhilarated because our revenues will surpass our expectation, but all of us will have learned an important lesson: earning money is a challenging task and those who persevere through their creativity, honesty and hard work will be the ones to ultimately succeed.”

– Otar Grigoryan, youth participant from Armenia, GMW2015

👍 How to work with the media?

Through media coverage you can promote the important work you are doing in your community, expand the reach of your message, and spread the word about Global Money Week 2016!

- Identify the story you want to tell – before you begin developing media outreach materials, consider your goals in gaining media coverage and define the focus you want to have on your activities.
- Communicate your message effectively – be prepared to tell your story and respond to questions. All media outreach materials should be clear, concise and persuasive, with a core set of messages.
- Create media outreach materials – different types of materials are used for different media outlets; create a live-read radio script for on-air announcements about your event, prepare a ready-made blog post article, or use the press release included in our press pack as an example of outreach material for printed publications.
- Create a media list for contact – contact media outlets and reporters directly to let them know about your GMW activities. Be strategic and pick those who are most likely to cover your event, and send tailored outreach materials by email to these reporters and outlets.

- Prepare a media kit for journalists – include all media materials you have prepared as a background to your business, organization or institution, your event, and Global Money Week. Media kits can be handed out before or during your event, or to those who are unable to attend but have responded to media outreach efforts.

👉 Tip! Keep in mind ‘pitch points’ when creating any outreach materials; the three or four most compelling points to share that will make someone want to learn more about your event, about GMW 2016, and about the Child and Youth Finance Movement.

For more information on working with media, visit www.globalmoneyweek.org ‘Media’ section

“I am very satisfied with the way the activity was conducted. I believe that the large number of young people, by taking part in this activity, “woke up” and started thinking about finances.”

– Marina Šukovi, Gacko. Youth participant from Bosnia and Herzegovina, GMW 2015

“The visit to banks was really appreciated by headmasters in schools, and professional training centers. It widened the vision of young people about employment opportunities in banks. Children were amazed to discover video cameras in banks and get opportunities to talk to bank managers and other staff members. Some of them entered a bank for the first time, opened a bank account and got to save for their personal savings account.”

– Spotlight from Togo, GMW 2013
